this book takes a fresh look at the external relations of the european union eu and in particular the common foreign and security policy cfsp rather than focusing exclusively on the competence aspects of the institutions and actors the book makes the case that the cfsp can be understood as a system of governance which produces effects beyond the traditional tools associated with foreign policy the theoretical approach draws on insights from new institutionalism constructivism and the institutional theory of law and emphasises how the institutionalised forms of cooperation in the external sphere contribute to a social reality in which the added value of the cfsp can be seen paul james cardwell takes the euro mediterranean partnership euromed as a case study not initially a cfsp project euromed has become the frame for eu foreign policy in the region as an emerging system of governance in which the eu institutions play a central role having recently been relaunched as the barcelona process union for the mediterranean it is a topical subject with the increasing importance of migration on the eu s agenda the book looks at the relationship between migration euromed and the cfsp and argues that the legal effects of the cfsp can be felt beyond the treaty based instruments eu external relations and systems of governance will be of interest to students and scholars of law politics and european studies researching in the dynamic fields of eu external relations and foreign policy as well as policy makers and non governmental organisations striving to better understand how the eu and its systems of governance operate the transitional politics of eurasian space is marked by a constant struggle among three sets of ideas and institutions the 1 is the remarkable resilience of soviet ideas and institutions 2 an attempt by the regimes of these states to reinvent the historical and cultural traditions of presoviet periods and third is an attempt by a section of the powerful elite to superimpose western liberal ideas and institutions there is a strange intertwining of these ideas and institutions this book examines the extent to which the postsoviet politics has departed from the soviet one what are the new ideational structures emerging in these states and how far have they crystallised into institutions what are the external influences which are shaping the institutions in the eurasian space and finally what are the various dynamics of geopolitics in this region experts from various countries will delve into the shifting dynamics of eurasian politics
